

Volunteer Opportunities

at the

Hollywood Bowl

The Hollywood Bowl is a world-class venue that presents nearly seventy concerts annually, ranging from classical music to jazz, from world music to children's concerts. Every summer, the Hollywood Bowl brings the finest talent from around the world to Los Angeles -- but to produce a successful season, we must also bring talented volunteers from Los Angeles to the Bowl! There's a volunteer opportunity to suit every interest:

The Edmund D. Edelman Hollywood Bowl Museum

The museum houses a multi-media exhibit on the history of the Bowl, a new interactive music-making exhibit on the second floor, and the GTE Computer Resource Center. Volunteers serve as:

- ◆ Gallery guides, welcoming visitors to the museum, answering questions about the Bowl and its history, and assisting patrons in the resource center, or
- ◆ Docents, leading walking tours of the Bowl for adults and children.

Museum volunteers work during the day, or in the evening before concerts.

The Hollywood Bowl Store

The Bowl Store and its remote locations throughout the Bowl are filled with wonderful Hollywood Bowl and Los Angeles Philharmonic memorabilia and an intriguing assortment of books, jewelry, and CDs for music lovers of all ages. Volunteers assist with selling merchandise and maintaining inventory. Bowl Store volunteers work during the day, or on concert evenings.

SummerSounds: Music for Kids at the Hollywood Bowl

SummerSounds is a six-week program of performances and workshops for children. Volunteers assist with seating, audience supervision, brochure distribution and arts & crafts workshops. Volunteers work on weekday mornings.

In addition to the satisfaction of assisting one of the finest nonprofit arts organizations in Los Angeles, volunteers earn tickets to the Hollywood Bowl as they log volunteer hours. They receive a 10% discount at the Bowl Store. Best of all, they have the opportunity to meet a diverse group of local citizens, tourists, children, and music lovers, and to share their love of music and the Hollywood Bowl with others.

Yes! I want to be a Hollywood Bowl volunteer!
